♦ West Orange Satellite Program – $200,000
  Sustaining the ongoing operations of the Adler satellite program for people with aphasia who live in Essex and surrounding counties.

♦ Aphasia Communication Groups – $150,000
  The Adler Aphasia Center’s innovative new model of service delivery that provides low-cost, long-term therapeutic support to people with aphasia in a growing region of New Jersey. These groups are currently in partnership with community organizations across six counties and slated to expand in the near future to a growing number of sites.

♦ Something Special – $150,000
  The Center’s unique vocational artisan program in gift and jewelry production, which provides ongoing revenue for Center activities through sales at house parties, pop-up sales sites, and events in partnership with corporate sponsors.

♦ Technology Program – $150,000
  A core life skills program that provides both communication skill learning through software training, and communication support through text-to-voice apps on mobile devices.

♦ Aphasia Education, Training, and Advocacy – $150,000
  Providing professional training in aphasia to healthcare practitioners and students, and to service sector workers and students, in order to improve communication access for all.

♦ Aphasia Research Program – $100,000
  Supporting the Center’s professional team in an ongoing effort in research-based programming, in collaboration with major universities and medical centers and under the supervision of Dr. Audrey Holland, a leading aphasia researcher and thought leader.
Performing Arts Program – $75,000
Supporting the annual Musical Theater production, a highlight of the Center’s program year, as well as the Adler choir and other performance initiatives.

Digital Arts Program – $50,000
Offering a range of artistic therapeutic outlets to people with aphasia, including photography, digital art, video production, and more.

Health and Wellness Program – $50,000
Improving the health and outlook of people with aphasia of all ages through physical therapy, occupational therapy, movement and exercise, and a range of wellness programs.

Annual Workshop for NJ-Licensed Speech Language Pathologists – $50,000
Sponsorship of the annual Adler Aphasia Center workshop for licensed SLPs, recognized as the state’s leading professional development seminar on aphasia.

Center Member Scholarships – $10,000
Offering a tuition scholarship of $10,000 for one member with aphasia for one year. On average, we provide scholarships to 25% of our members who cannot afford our nominal program fee.
